THE TAMARACK

North Central High School
June, 1934

THE TAMARACK

Ernest Hix

To Mr. Ernest Hix, a North Central graduate who came back three years ago to his alma mater as a teacher; and who, by his ability and his kindly interest in the welfare of students, quickly secured for himself a host of friends, the June class of 1934 dedicates this Tamarack.

Anchors Aweigh

We, the graduating sailors of June, 1934, realizing that we are responsible for the fact that North Central is the best school in the World—hope that the school may continue along the cruise of success. But knowing the deficiencies of those who are to follow us, we find it necessary to sacrifice the following accumulations:

We bequeath Alice Glassford's curls to the head stewardess for an O'Cedar mop. Hope it doesn't fade!

Louise Mitchell has decided to give that quiet air of hers to that outspoken chap, Herschel Lindsay.

We leave Maude McCannon's perfectly wonderful blonde curly hair to Barbara O'Neil, not that she needs it. (Paid Adv.)

We almost bequeathed Leonard Sullivan to Lola Larson, but decided that it wasn't necessary.

We leave Betty Austin's dignity to the freshies. Heaven knows they need it.

Bob Ferris wills his toy steamboat to Glen Sherwin with which to play.

Lloyd Butler hands over his "way with the women" to Francis Hanson. Hope you can use it, Hanson!

We bequeath Viola Miller's technique for making drastic tennis shots to Irene Schmmacher and Nancy Jane Knee. Yes, there is enough for two!

Eloise (Dodo) Doolittle is leaving her good hooks and fondness for Spuds to Margaret Hoffman.

We are willing "Deep Sea" Tom Robinson's nose to "Schnozzle" Caputo. (Thanks, Tom, you're a pal!)

"Garbo" Tronsen is leaving her feet so that it will be possible for someone else to be an impersonator.

Zee gran' general Paprica, Clarke Gilmore, has left his trusty sword to Joe Gregory. Come on Joe, roar with Gilmore!

Mae McFarland has willed his ability to get out of chem class during hunting season to that super woman chaser, "Dutch" Williams.

Jim Kearnes is leaving his oratorical abilities to that quiet, retiring lad, Arnim Knaack. (He doesn't need them, but Jim had to leave something to his dear old alma mater.)

"Skipper" Kenney Jones' everlasting admiration of Ruth Kuhlman we leave to the highest bidder—don't crowd folks!

Audrey Gross is leaving her excellent military training to Florence Forrester in the hopes that the deportment of the latter will improve.

Jerry Sage has at last agreed to part with some of that par excellence baritone voice of his to Walter Babbit. Be sure to take good care of it, Walt!

Elnora Avey has decided that she won't need her drag with the teachers any longer, so she has agreed to let the oncoming commercial students have it. There is enough for all, don't push!

"Pithy" Otstot is leaving the pride and joy of his life, his cork life jacket to Bob Ellis.

We leave our photo proofs to the senior B's with a prayer that their pictures will be worse than ours, which isn't possible.

We will Max Tatman's athletic power to Harold Murphy. It ought to help him to get a letter!

Grace Hendricks is leaving her "it" to Betty Lee Hancock.

We are giving Theron Neville Mary Armstrong's sweet disposition.

Jackie "Sailor" Turner wills his black eyes and sunny disposition to Al Merry.

Frank Kingery gives his "naturally" curly hair and his heavenly knack of borrowing things to Joe Zangar.

Herby "Yell King" Jacobs wills his ability with any and all women to Joe McCrackin. J. M. paid plenty for this.)

We will Howdy "Johnny" Johnson's lasting way with red heads to "Crooner" Forest Finch.

Thus exits the best class that ever bluffed through a lesson—

Those that were not mentioned were omitted because our rates are strictly cash and they wouldn't come through with enough to buy their publicity.

Last but not least, we, the drawers-up, leave our marvelous ability to the next would-be drawers-up and wish them as much luck with collections as we had.

The Indian Trail

In 1930, two hundred and thirty-two young Indians started on a four-year trek through the rough plains of North Central in quest of higher knowledge. At first, as the trail was difficult, very few of our tribe rose to prominence, however, Leona Meyer became outstanding for her debating ability. Many of the present prominent boy and girl athletes started their careers by practicing along the way.

The next year we were joined by one hundred and ten papooses from Havermale. By now we had become accustomed to hardships and began to take part in activities. Ten played the tom-toms, etc. for the orchestra, and one of our maidens, Margaret Proff, distinguished herself by contributing the prize story to that year's Tamarack.

Of course, during the first years, we were under the guidance of the members of the older tribes, but as the latter passed on, we filled their vacancies in clubs, on athletic teams and other organizations. In the spring all of the girls participated in a Gym Show. They danced and exhibited their skill in various lines. The proceeds of this show hard surfaced three tennis courts and helped improve the playfield.

In the fall of 1933 we reached the Senior River and started our journey down it peacefully. In the annual football wars against the Pirates, Tigers and Bulldogs, the Indians returned with the city championship. No doubt the victories were partly due to the enthusiasm of the student body. The warriors representing our tribe were Max Tatman, Bob Carey, Dave Janne, Leonard Sullivan, Jerry Sage, Jimmie Billberg, John Bickert, Frank Taylor and Fred Olsen, manager. In basketball we were outplayed by the Tigers only.

Led by Chief Jerry Stage, we finally reached a fork in the river. The other officers of the senior B class were: Lillian Grimsrud, vice president; Viola Miller, secretary; and Kenneth Jones, treasurer.

For five months we followed fork "A" of the Senior River. The current carried us swiftly along. At this time we elected as our big chief, Leonard Sullivan, and as his helper, Maude McCannon. Viola Miller and Kenneth Jones served us so well in the past that we decided to let them keep their former offices. We also had Leo English for sergeant at arms, and Herb Jacobs, Jack Turner and Frank Kingery for cheer leaders. Audrey Gross was chosen president of the Girls' League, and Max Tatman the head of the Boys' Federation.

In the line of entertainment some of the girls presented the Doll Shop; the dramatics class demonstrated its abilities in a modern play "The Royal Family of Broadway" with Joyce Hazen, Jane Stone, Alice Glassford, John Hackett and Bob Ferris playing the leads; and the Delts put on their annual Hi-Jinx. Although the squads of baseball and track were composed mainly of green men, the teams represented North Central well. In tennis the girls, captained by Zola Thompson, gained many victories.

We sighted the end of the river marking the end of our long journey in June of 1934 and immediately launched the S. S. Tamarack. The launching was supervised by "Skipper" Jones. In these last days of our trek we gave a big dance, the Senior Prom. All the handsome braves and pretty maidens were present. As we bade farewell to one another, some of us were glad and others sad; but we all agreed that we've had a marvelous time traveling together and certainly hope that the future generations of Indians make many successful treks through the North Central plains.

JUNE, 1934

START EARLY!

After four short years of high school, too often a graduating senior looks back and wishes that he had entered activities at North Central much earlier and that he had accomplished more here. For that reason, we ancients who are to be graduated this June offer a word or two of advice to underclassmen and future North Centralites.

There is an activity—no, several activities—for every person who enters our school; but through procrastination, laziness or thoughtlessness they are often pushed aside until it is too late to accomplish much. Many Indian warriors have waited till they were seniors to participate in interscholastic athletics; and, although they might have had good reasons for doing so, they receive just a taste of high school competition and are then forced on out by way of graduation.

High school records mean more in later life than most students realize. Time spent in athletics, journalism, school clubs, music, debating, dramatics, League and Federation work will yield returns later through the benefit derived from them.

If you establish a good record here at North Central, you can be exceedingly happy and proud years later to show your friends and relatives your athletic letter, pins or awards in recognition of your high school work or your Tamarack activity list.

ABOARD THE S. S. EXPERIENCE

Diplomas can be imagined as steamship tickets giving approximately 280 North Central students the right to sail out over that wide ocean, the World, in the good old boat, S. S. Experience. How many of us are going to be officers of the ship; how many will never be seen above the hold?

The answer depends on each one of us. Some will want to book as passengers and glide through life easily and smoothly, with nothing to do but enjoy their trivial affairs. Perhaps they will enjoy themselves, but they won't get the deep satisfaction that comes from accomplishments gained by hard work.

Just as the deck hands will polish the rails and door knobs to reflect the officers as they pass, some of us will work hard for the glory of others. We will never be seen or known, but we will know that the prominence of others could not have been attained if it had not been for the hidden workers.

Every age must have its person forever looking into the future. The sailor who is always at the lookout on the ship will be the dreamer of our class searching for new things, new interests and new places. Perhaps he will find them and enrich the world with his wonderful discoveries.

Everyone will have his place on the S. S. Experience, but no matter how far the ship sails, not one of us will forget the place where we got our sailing papers, North Central high school.

TRUE FRIENDS

"True friends are like diamonds,
Precious and rare,
False ones like fallen leaves,
Found everywhere."—Anon.

What type of friend are you?

So much of all the happiness in the world would be lost if it weren't for friendship. Think a moment; recall the most joyous times of your life. Weren't they directly the result of acts done because someone liked you? Most of them were, but perhaps at other times you gained honor, and consequently happiness by your own efforts. The pleasant feeling within you became a thousand times greater because your friends were glad for you. They congratulated you and shook your hand. Your victory would have been almost worthless if you had had no one to appreciate it.

There is nothing better than a dependable friend. No matter what happens, you can go to him for comfort and help. A good friend won't like you one moment and say terrible things against you when you are gone. Making yourself a friend worth having is an accomplishment. When someone in all sincerity called you a true friend, it made you happy, didn't it?

"Friendship is deep, quiet, enduring affection, founded upon mutual respect and esteem," is the definition given in the dictionary. Have you ever heard a group of old folks talk of days gone by? The conversation is mostly of the fun they had with their pals. They don't remember the names of those whom they didn't like, but they easily bring to minds the ones who were true friends. If they could meet again, it would seem as if no time had passed. Their well found friendship would endure through the years.

Are you making yourself the esteemed type of friends who will happily be remembered for years to come?

WHY COLLEGE?

Ever since we were six years old, law and society have compelled us to go to school. But that time is passed and from now on it is up to us individually whether or not we go on to some institution of higher learning.

A job or a position? Wages or a salary? No longer can the untrained workman get more than a mere living wage. It is the man who is trained in his profession who rises above the ranks to become a leader. A college education offers us this opportunity.

High school education means a development along general lines; in college, one may specialize in the life work which he wishes to follow and for which he is especially adapted. For example, courses are offered which prepare one to follow the medical profession, forestry work and many other vocations.

Of course, the financial side of gaining a higher training may seem to present great difficulties to some people but to a person with ambition and determination, a college education is not out of reach.

Be wise—we have finished our high school education, but this is merely a stepping stone to greater possibilities—GO TO COLLEGE!

HAPPINESS—A DUTY

Joy, Shipmate, joy!
(Pleas'd to my soul at death I cry.)
Our life is closed, our life begins,
The long, long anchorage we leave,
The ship is clear at last, she leaps!
She swiftly courses from the shore,
Joy, shipmate, joy!

—Walt Whitman

It is not always easy to be happy; but happiness, like any other good trait, may be, and should be, cultivated.

A gloomy person has a bad effect on everyone about him, and needless to say, he cannot do his best in this frame of mind. Of course, it is hard to be cheerful when your own little particular world is going wrong, but why worry others with your troubles? Allowing one's self to be annoyed by unimportant things is a bad practice which grows with repetition.

Happiness is not a gift—it is a good habit which you must develop yourself with constant effort and determination; and it is also a duty which you owe, not only to yourself, but to others with whom you come in contact.

Powdered Hair

FIRST PRIZE STORY

By Dan McCauley

"Now tell me everything that happened," drawled Chief of Police Harper.

The tall excited young man before him dropped into a chair, leaned forward, and began to speak.

"It was nearly dusk, Chief, when that Lincoln sedan drove into my gas station on Wellington Pike. It surprised me a lot. I seldom see a passenger car out my way since they've been reconstructing the highway.

"Well, I filled the gas tank; and while I was patching the spare tire, the old gentleman and his wife—I thought she was his wife—walked around in the gravel of the driveway, stretching their cramped limbs, so to speak.

"Chief, this old gentleman was a character; tall, dignified, just the type seen at country clubs. And his hair! It was unusual; it had a light, kind of powdery whiteness.

"As the fellow was peeling a 'ten' from a large roll to pay for the gas and repairs, his wife came in waving her arms frantically and half crying, 'John! My locket! I've lost it.'

"What?"

"Yes, I—"

"Not the one with our wedding pictures? How could—"

"I was swinging it by the chain—it slipped—I heard it fall in the gravel."

"Well, Chief, no sooner had she finished talking than I took a flashlight, went out, and literally combed the driveway; but—no locket. I supposed this woman, Mary, he called her, would have stayed at the gas station for hours looking; but John persuaded her to give up the search. I would find it in the morning, he assured her.

"Before he left, John made it known that his full name was Mr. J. D. Glassford; that the locket was valuable as a keepsake; that when the locket was found, it should be sent to the Bank of Italy, in San Francisco, where a reward of one hundred dollars would be set aside for me—he would arrange it with this bank, he said. I assured them that I'd send the locket as soon as it was found. Then they left.

"All the next morning I was swamped with work. A dozen or more trucks from that road job came in. Some needed gas; others needed water or minor repairs. I was busy, but still kept thinking of the locket and the reward. It was a relief when all the trucks had gone—I thought I could look for the locket. Well, just then a fellow drove in. 'Put in two gallons,' he said.

"I gave him the gas; and while I wiped off the windshield, this new customer walked to the back of his old touring car, looked at the tires, then strolled out on the driveway.

"Naturally I watched him; the locket was lost near there.

"Well, here's the peculiar part, Chief; this newcomer made a slight scuffle in the gravel, picked up something, and concealed it in his waistcoat. I knew it was the locket; I also knew that I would lose the reward if he refused to give it up.

"Just a minute,' I said, 'I saw you pick that up.'

"Well—what of it?' he countered.

"Just this,' I went on, 'I will have to take charge of it, since it was lost on my property.'

"I found this locket,' he said emphatically, 'and what's more I'm going to keep it.'

"Well, in short, after refusing offers in cash of various amounts, this fellow finally agreed to sell the locket to me for fifty dollars. Even this was more than I could afford; but, of course, I had the reward money in mind.

"I went to get the money, but instead of taking fifty dollars from the till, I phoned the police. Then I held him till the officers arrived."

"Yes," began Chief of Police Harper, "I know all that. After my detectives had taken the man into custody, they questioned him and found that there had been no locket in the first place; that he was in reality Mr. J. D. Glassford; and that Mrs. Glassford's losing of the locket was a carefully staged trick. The outcome of all this was to be that Mr. Glassford return to your gas station on the day following the "losing" of the locket, slightly disguised and supposedly find the article of jewelry in question. He would then try to sell you a valueless locket, which you would buy at almost any reasonable price, believing all this time you would receive the one hundred dollars reward for it. What I want to know is this. How and when did you come to realize that this whole thing was a hoax?"

"Well, Chief," said the service station proprietor, "I had decided to pay the fellow fifty dollars for the locket; but just as I turned to get the money, he took off his hat.

"This gave him and his whole plot away. His hair! It was unusual! It had a light, kind of powdery whiteness."

~~~~~ Eight Plates or One

SECOND PRIZE STORY

By Margaret Goudge

"Catch it, Chuck!"

Halfway across the kitchen, the boy, Chuck, whirled to see a soapy, white plate spinning toward him. In his arms he carried eight similar ones; but without a moment's hesitation, he let the stack of dishes fall to a noisy death as he desperately flung out his hands to grab the one speeding plate.

"Fools," muttered Grant Everett. Besides his usual stroll on deck, he had walked restlessly down to the ship's kitchen and paused in the doorway to watch the boys wash dishes. He turned away and slowly made his way up the steps, suspiciously glaring at every sailor he passed. He was a tall, slender man not yet thirty, with unfriendly gray eyes and a hard set chin. Grant Everett trusted no one. Hadn't his best friend proved false? For nearly ten years the two young men had worked side by side saving all their earnings to start a business of their own as partners. When enough money had been saved and they were on the verge of starting their business, the friend had disappeared with all the money.

Grant Everett bumped into a steward and scowled darkly. He leaned against the railing and glowered at the rocking sea. He was on his way to Australia—following the thief. If catching that man and sending him to prison were the only thing he accomplished in life, he would be satisfied. Yes, that was clearly his life's work. Not a very pleasant future, to be sure; but then what was the use of life anyway—just to be born, work awhile, then plunge on into eternity?

"I beg your pardon, sir," spoke a voice at his elbow, "but have you any idea how one should go about catching a criminal."

Grant Everett turned ever so slightly to survey the small, bespectacled man who continued, "You see, I have written a story about some criminals. It's a story that actually happened in my home town. The criminals got away, but my publishers won't accept this type of story unless the criminals are caught and brought to justice. I can't see why all stories must be so artificial and end just so. In real life the criminals don't seem to get caught very often. Frankly, I'm stuck. Can you offer any suggestion as to how I shall have the hero catch them?"

"Keep after 'em," growled Grant Everett and walked on down the deck. He was one man who was going to bring a criminal to justice in real life!

The sky had been dark and troubled all day. Now the afternoon sun crept part way through the clouds and made a golden glare in the Western hemisphere. Grant Everett paused to gaze admiringly at it, and for the first time he experienced a feeling of doubt as to the wisdom of following a thief about like a dog.

A boy brushed past him. He looked familiar. Who was he? Ah, the boy he had seen dropping plates in the kitchen! Suddenly, understanding crept into the man's face much as the sun was creeping through the clouds, as he saw how he, himself, was letting go of all the worthwhile things in life to catch one disloyal man.

His happy smile amazed the boy as he passed by again. Grant Everett had come to his senses in a flash. He would not tarry in Australia. Home was where he belonged. At home he would find happiness, start again to save money for his desired business, and then there was a girl. He hoped that while waiting for him to return, she had not grown tired and married someone else.

The boy in the kitchen had dropped eight plates to catch one. Grant Everett would not make that same mistake. He would hang on to the eight plates, happiness and home, while the single plate, his disloyal friend, could keep spinning forever.

I WOULD LIVE!

FIRST PRIZE POEM

By Margaret Proff

Let those who would sit by the side of the road

Be those who are weary and grey.
But I would sweep over yon windy hills
To pluck the blossoms of day!

Let those who are tired of the hurry and rush
Take the years that are soothing and sweet.
But give me the paths that are colored with life

I would tread the adventurer's street!

Let those who are meekly afraid of the world
Meet the tears and the milder of rains.
I would rather the passions of storms
And a part of humanities pains!

To those who can hope—their heavenly wings
To soar to the great Other Side.
I would stride to the edge of the roaring seas
And whirl away on the tide!

THE SONG OF THE THEME

(With apologies to Thomas Hood)

SECOND PRIZE POEM

By Mary Barrett

With fingers weary and worn,
With eyelids heavy and red,
A student sat in a typical slump,
Twiddling his pencil of lead—
Write! write! write!

On assignments made by the ream,
And shaking his head on his dolorous plight
He sang the "Song of the Theme!"

"Think! think! think!
From dusk until late at night!
And think-think-think,
Of a subject on which to write!
It's Oh! to be a slave
Along with the barbarous Turk,
Than be hurried on to an early grave
By this thing called 'Student Work.'

"Scratch-scratch-scratch
Till the brain begins to swim!
Scratch-scratch-scratch
Till the eyes are heavy and dim.
Theme and essay and poem,
Poem and essay and theme,
Till over the outline I fall asleep,
And plan it out in a dream.

"Oh, Teachers, with lengthy tasks!

You were once students, I deem,
So pity the student when he asks
More time for his overdue theme.

Write-write-write,
On assignments made by the ream,
Unity, coherence, and emphasis
Must be in the plagned theme.

"Scrawl-scrawl-scrawl!

My setting is all awry,
It does not answer when or where
Or who or what or why!
Scrawl-scrawl-scrawl,
My labor never flags;
And what are its wages? A passing grade,
A teacher's favor—and 'drags.'

"Write-write-write,
From page to weary page,
Write-write-write,
Oh! what a dreary age—
Poem and essay and theme,
Theme and essay and poem,
Till the hand is tired, and the thoughts
bemired,
And the eyes are wont to roam.

"Scratch-scratch-scratch,
As the day fades into night,
And scratch-scratch-scratch,
In the glare of electric light,
While outside carefree students
Gaily flit about,
And laughing at my prudence,
Implore me to come out!

"Oh, for one short hour
Of playing and jumping rope!
A brief respite would bring delight
And restore my waning hope!
Yet I can't resort to the tennis court,
Nor on the soft grass tread,
Nor heed the call of racket and ball—
But must push my pencil of lead!"

With fingers weary and worn,
With eyelids heavy and red,
A student sat in typical slump,
Twiddling his pencil of lead—
Write! write! write!
On assignments made by the ream,
And shaking his head on his dolorous plight,
Would that the prof could witness the sight!
He sang this "Song of the Theme!"

Debate

North Central ended its 1933-34 debating season victoriously Jan. 18 by winning the city championship in the triangular debates held simultaneously at North Central, Lewis and Clark and Rogers.

This victory entitled North Central to the Harvard club debating trophy which has been held by Rogers for six years. The championship also gave the school a perfect forensic record for the season, its teams having previously defeated the Fairfield and Ritzville debaters.

Miss Grace Campbell, coach, took charge of debating a year ago. That season North Central finished second in the city series.

The debaters participated in several practice debates earlier in the season. Among these were Gonzaga, Steptoe, Deer Park and Rockford.

The question was, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt the essential features of the British broadcasting system for radio control and operation."

The debaters, affirmative team: Elvora Avey, Barbara Hickey, Leona Meyer and Earl Fossum. Negative team: Barbara Heil, Willard Roe and Bill Gold.

Only two of last season's squad, Barbara Heil and Barbara Hickey, will be here for debate next fall. However, Miss Campbell is working hard with her present debate class and reports that the material for next season is promising.

My grandpa notes the world's worse eggs
And says we're going to the dogs.
His granddad in his house of logs
SWORE things were going to the dogs.
His dad among the Flemish bogs
VOWED things were going to the dogs.
The caveman in his queer skin togs
SAID things were going to the dogs.
But this is what I wish to STATE—
The dogs have had an awful wait.

Auntie: Which one of you children ate the grapes I left on the cupboard? No use denying it. I saw the seeds and skins on the floor.

Vernon Mc Guire: Honest it wasn't me, auntie. I ate the skins and seeds and all.

SCRIPTORIAN SOCIETY

The purpose of the Scriptorian society is to give constructive criticism to the girls who write stories, essays, poems or plays. At present the club has a membership of 25.

At each meeting there is a program of original manuscripts. Each girl must be on the program at least once during the semester.

This year it has been decided that girls may try out for the club either by coming to the regular open house or by submitting at any time during the semester their best creative work, for approval by the club.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The object of the Girls' League of North Central is to develop sympathy and understanding among the girls of the school. Every girl student is a member. All activities of the League are divided into eight departments: Clerical, Social Service, Entertainment, Hobby, Personal Efficiency, Room Representatives, Senior Counsellors and Dress Standards.

The motto of the Girls' League is "Honor, Service, Loyalty," the observance of which creates a true regard for the highest interests of the school, the community and the nation.

At the end of each semester, a bronze, silver, gold, or gold set with ruby pin or honorable mention is given to girls who have won ten points in work for the League. The award depends on how many times the girl has been on the Girls' League honor roll.

THE BOYS' FEDERATION

The Boys' Federation is organized to promote cooperative activities involving all boys of North Central. The Executive council, advised by the faculty director, transacts most of the business of the Federation. The activities are divided into four departments: The community service department, the school service department, the personal service department and the vocational department. Each department is operated by a student head and carries out its work through committees. The director gives a period each day to supervising the work.

Stress is laid on efficient methods, parliamentary procedure and civic training. Each semester the boys are registered and given work according to preference. Elections are conducted according to civic procedure. Written records are kept, checked and filed. Effort is made to produce socially minded young men trained for leadership and citizenship.

This semester The News carried on an extensive advertising campaign and had a very successful year.

Three special issues of The News were issued, one at Thanksgiving, another at Christmas and one at Easter.

North Central students have shown a great deal of cooperation in supporting The News this year.

BOYS' SENIOR COUNSELLORS

This division of the Federation is organized chiefly to make new boys acquainted with North Central. Each semester certain boys are assigned to groups of boys who are entering North Central for their first year. Rules of conduct, purposes of clubs are taught to the new boys.

COUNSELLORS

Bill Nicoles, Bruce Hoesley, Bob Boger, Ed Davis, Leonard Sullivan, Vernon McGuire, Herb Jacobs, Bob McLellan, Joe McCrackin, Jerry Sage and Richard Beebe.

Deputy: See that sign that says five dollars fine for fishing?

Dick McLellan: I am not fishing; I am just teaching my worms how to swim.

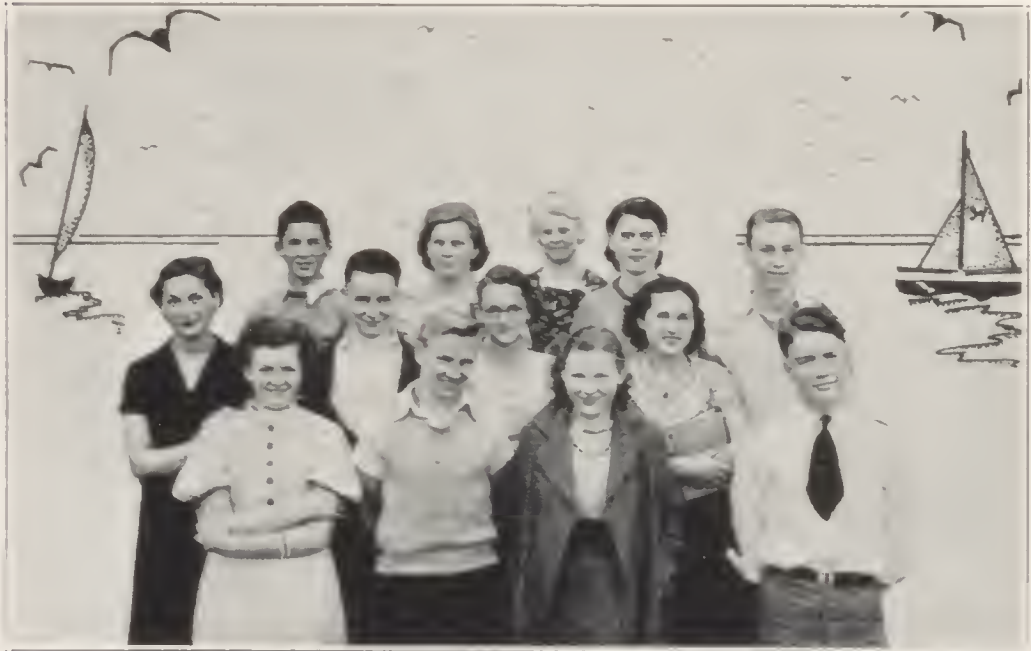

Deputy: Let's see your worms.

Dick: Here they are.

Deputy: That's five dollars more for letting your worms swim without bathing suits.

Students Present Tree to School

Two Colorado blue spruce were presented by the Associated Students' council to the North Central high school April 18, 1934, in a simple but sincere outdoors ceremony. The trees were planted on the north west corner of the school grounds and dedicated to the living future of North Central high school.

APRIL

Daffodils are blooming
White clouds milling
Lilacs are purpling
Meadow-larks trilling
For you and for me.

A paling moon
In cool thin air
A wavering star
In night's dark hair
Beauty's free
In April everywhere.

Fourth row: Harry Gerfen, Maude McCannon, Mae McFarland, John Hackett, Jimmie Billberg, Bob Ferris.

Senior Dramatics

"The Royal Family," was the play presented by the senior dramatics class May 4 and 5 under the direction of Grace Douglas Leonard. It was a dashing comedy about a family of temperamental actors who could no more keep from acting than they could keep from breathing. Fanny Cavendish, an old woman of seventy-two, has been one of the greatest actors of her day and it has become a family tradition that acting is the only worthwhile thing in life. The members of Fanny's family—her son, her daughter and her granddaughter, all try to find happiness in love, marriage and travel, but the influence of the stage is too great, so a great family tradition is carried on.

The executive committee proved competent in managing the production problems. They were: Assistant director, Maude McCannon; business manager, Richard Beebe; advertising man, Harry Gerfen; publicity manager, Ralph Davidson; house manager, Elsie Church; property manager, Gladys Hawley; make-up, Margaret Proff.

At the first of the semester the class presented four one-act plays in different convocations. The first play given was "He," a tragic story of a woman who went mad on a whaling vessel. Those in the cast were: Leo Rockkind, Ingolf Kricken, Zena Griffith, Mac McFarland, Jim Kearnes and Eugene Crandall.

The next play presented was "Wurzel-Flumery," a comedy that centered around a chang-

BAND Officers: Bill Ellis, Vernon McGuire and Albert Weid (bandmasters), Herbert Kaesemeyer (business manager), Harold Drinkard (equipment manager), Eldon Miller (assistant manager), Clinton Schenk (stage manager), Dwight Russell (property manager), Stanley Hughart (head librarian), Richard Steiner, Dick Bird, Dick Deavitt, Bob Davis and Lester McLachran (assistant librarians), Charles Neighbors and Herbert Jacobs (drum majors), L. C. Bradford (director).

The Band

Pep and life are the factors for securing school spirit; and whenever possible, the North Central Band, under the splendid direction of Lowell C. Bradford, has done its part.

The band has made two major performances. It was chosen for the second time to accompany the gymnastics in the All-City Grade School pageant, presented May 11, at the Gonzaga Stadium.

The twenty-first semi-annual concert was given in the school auditorium, May 18. The concert featured "Torch Dance," Meyerbeer; "Dance Suite," Tschakaff; and overture "Stradella," Flowtow.

The Derby Five comedy band made its first appearance in the Stunt Parade and also played for baseball games, track meets, convocations and intermission numbers during the spring concert. Those in the Derby Five are: Trumpet and leader, Bill Ells; second clarinet, Albert Wied; trombone, Vernon McGuire; sousaphone, Bob Jordan; drum major, Herbert Jacobs; standard bearer, Herbert Kaesemeyer.

The pep band, composed of fourteen pieces, under the direction of Vernon McGuire, furnished music for the Hi-Jinx, April 13. Other members are Bill Ells, Herbert Kaesemeyer, John Harris, Albert Wied, Jack Bierce, Lester McEachran, Eldon Miller, Craig Batchelor, Robert Jordan, Melvin Walker, Roy Marquardt, Paul Gronemeier and Bob Davis.

A clarinet quintet with Albert Wied as leader has been especially good this semester. The other members are: Stanley Hughart, Paul Luenow, Richard Deavitt, and John Kapek.

Personnel of the band is as follows: Cornet: Ford Bailor, Eugene Bean, Ray Bradbury, Bill B. Brown, Walter Burger, James Callihan, Marion Clapp, Volney Deal, Don Eagle, Bill Ells, Harvey Frazier, Wallace Hagen, John Harris, Spencer Jilek, Herbert Kaesemeyer, Kenneth Kohles, Bob Lantzy, Ed McConnell, Harry Muehlman, Larry Owens, Don Roekser, Howard Smith, Richard Steiner, Ted Tremblay, Harry Vaughan.

Horns: Richard Alverson, Jack Banks, Robert Davis, Robert Grimmer, Arnim Knaack, Emerson Lillwitz, Bob Protherough, Dwight Russell, Maurice Swank.

Baritone: Percy Achre, Earl Hildahl, Robert Jordan, Austin Raney.

Trombone: Thad Allen, Leonard Anderson,

Ward Barnes, Irving Bayley, Charles Johnson, Bill Kranzush, Herbert Krauel, Herschel Lindsey, Vernon McGuire, Ary Nason, Rowland Witt.

Bass: Morton Allen, Dick Cruger, Joe Di Carlo, Wilbur Eveland, James Gump, Charles Uhden, Melvin Walker.

Drums: Emory Baker, Paul Gronemeier, Freeman Jensen, George Low, John Luppert, Roy Marquardt, George Mathison, Charles Rice, Harry Scruggs, Willard Talbott.

Piccolo: George Gunn. Flute: Robert Berg, Richard Bird. Bassoon: Albert Myers.

~~~~~ "THE DOLL SHOP" ~~~~~

Probably one of the best received convocations offered this semester, known as the "Doll Shop," was staged by the girls' physical education department.

Miss Pinkham and Miss Jahreiss were in charge of the presentation. The theme song was written by C. Olin Rice.

Mae Ohme and Bertha Enfield, North Central graduates, helped with the orchestration and piano parts. Mrs. Leonard aided in the dialogues and the Senior Dramatics class had charge of the make-up. Mr. Bradford supervised the taking of the tickets at the door and also helped with the dialogues.

The advertising was well directed by Miss Ashley, Mr. Green, Miss Freakes and Mr. Eeker. Mr. Youngman built the stage constructions and Alice Glassford decorated the box for the jumping jack. Carl Bridge designed the tickets for the show.

The scene was the interior of a Doll Shop

Winning 20 out of 27 games played, the North Central basketball squad completed one of its most successful years since 1929.

Coach J. Wesley Taylor, director of physical education, returned as head basketball mentor after an absence of two years. Although the team did not win the city championship this season, the North Central squad defeated the Lewis and Clark title holders in the final game of the series and maintained a lead for second place.

The mid-season standing found North Central in a tie with Lewis and Clark for first place, but January graduation eliminated Howard Wassenar and Virgil Turner, two of Coach Taylor's most valuable men, from prep competition. Wassenar was North Central's high point man and one of the highest scorers in the city. The loss of these two first string men at such a critical time in the city race was the main reason that the Tigers nosed out the Indians in the second semester. The North Central quintet lost only one game in the first half of the series to four games in the second half.

The reorganized team began functioning smoothly a little too late to win the championship but not too late to win over Lewis and Clark and give the next season's opponents something to worry about.

FAIRFIELD

Visiting the Fairfield court for the first game of the season, the Indians tripped up their host by a score of 27 to 22. The Fairfield team was in mid-season form and kept the Redmen on their toes every minute of the game.

In the return game in home territory, the Indians showed a great deal of improvement in winning by a 17 point margin. The final score was 26-9.

COLUMBIA

Columbia Union High was North Central's second opponent and victim. The Indian five traveled to Hunter and took an early lead to defeat the Columbia cagers 28-8.

CHENEY

In the overtime period, Sage dropped in a field goal to nose out the Papooses 18 to 17. It was a hard fought contest and was marked by many fouls by both teams.

WEST VALLEY

The Indian arrow found its mark in the West Valley Eagle and the Vallevmen took a 27-14 drubbing at the hands of the North Central quintet. Tatman was high point man with ten tallies.

HARRINGTON

Randall led the Indian scoring attack to win over Harrington 21 to 6 in the Harrington gymnasium.

MEAD

North Central scored a double victory when the A and B squads defeated Mead by impressive scores. The A squad won 33 to 8 and the B squad tallied 35 points to the Mead hoopster's 5. Both games were played at Mead.

WENATCHEE

"Go West!" proved to be bad advice to the Indians. The immense Wenatchee high school gymnasium was the setting for North Central's first defeat of the season. The apple growers won 21-18.

ODESSA

The game at Odessa turned out to be a rough scramble, both teams being called for numerous fouls. When the smoke had cleared Odessa led the Indians 20-19.

CORR D' ALENE

With the score tied at the half, the fast stepping warriors showed strong offensive power in the second half to defeat the Vikings for the first time in several years on their own court. The score was 25-15.

BONNERS FERRY

Playing one of their best games of the season, the Indians trimmed the Bonners Ferry five 30-15. Wassenar was high point man with 16 points.

GONZAGA

The first half of the game was slow, but in the third quarter the North Central quinnet loosed a scoring attack which netted them 11 points. The Warriors maintained their lead to win 24-13.

ROGERS

Again Wassenar led the Indians' scoring to win over Rogers 16-9. North Central was leading 5-3 at the half time, both teams having difficulty with their passing.

LEWIS AND CLARK

North Central was handed its first defeat in the city race when Draney of Lewis and Clark sank a field goal in the last minute of the game to win for the Tigers 23-21.

GONZAGA

After being led at the half, the North Central five started a fine passing attack in the third quarter, making seven points while Gonzaga counted only one field goal. The final score was North Central 22, Gonzaga 18.

ROGERS

A last minute rally by the Indians netted a 25-23 win over the Pirates. Tatman made a unique record by sinking every basket he attempted for a total of eight points.

LEWIS AND CLARK

With Wassenar and Turner playing their last game for North Central, the Indians fought hard to nose out the Tigers 17-15. Wassenar, Nicoles and Turner were high point men for North Central.

This game ended the first half of the city series with North Central and Lewis and Clark tied for first place.

OTIS ORCHARDS

With a new combination composed of Tatman, Nicoles, Johnson, Randall and Runje, the North Central squad almost shut out the Otis five. Tatman was high point man with 20 points. The final score was North Central 53, Otis 4.

CENTRAL VALLEY

Functioning better than in the Otis game, the revamped Indian five out-played the Valley team to win 23-18. Tatman and Johnson were high point men.

DAVENPORT

A speedy and aggressive Davenport team gave the Indians a scare when they led 9-4 at the half, but the North Central team displayed a nice passing attack in the second half to win the contest 19-11. Johnson led the scorers with 9 tallies.

GONZAGA

Playing the first game of the city series without the help of Wassenar and Turner, the North Central quintet went on a last minute scoring spree to nose out the Gonzaga Bullpups 22-15. Raudall was the Indian spark-plug, scoring 9 points.

ROGERS

Too much Mathers proved disastrous to the Warriors and the Indians took a 24-16 drubbing at the hands of the Pirate gang. Rogers grabbed an early lead never to be overtaken by the fighting Indians. Mathers tallied 16 points for the Pirates.

LEWIS AND CLARK

In a rough game marked by many fouls, the Indians tasted their third defeat in the city hoop race. The North Central team was unable to maintain its half-time lead against the strong Tiger offensive and the Lewis and Clark hoopenmen led 21-12 at the final gun.

GONZAGA

Rego of Gonzaga made good a foul shot in the overtime period to win for Gonzaga 16-15. Sage, playing his first city game for North Central, was high point man for the Indians.

This game gave Lewis and Clark a clear lead for the city title.

ROGERS

North Central received a 20-11 trouncing when they visited the Pirate den for the last time this season. Both teams played a good game but the Indians couldn't make their short shots tally.

LEWIS AND CLARK

In the final game of the 1933-34 city basketball race, the fighting North Central team downed the Lewis and Clark city champions 22-21 in the Indian gymnasium. Sage was high point man for the Indians. The game was a hard fought contest with the Tigers coming from behind to lead the Indians a few minutes before the end of the game. Sage looped in a shot two seconds before the end of the game which gave North Central its one point lead.

EDWALL

North Central defeated the Edwall eagles 34-12 in a fast clean game in the Edwall gymnasium. Frazier was high point man, sinking the ball for a total of 12 points. Every boy who made the trip was used in the game.

This ended the basketball season for the North Central squad.

Track Squad

Track

Approximately 150 boys answered Coach J. Wesley Taylor's call for the first track meeting Feb. 23. Only five veterans returned to form the nucleus for the 1934 team, twenty-two lettermen having been lost through graduation. The five returning were: Frank Taylor, shot and discus; Ralph Anderson and Francis Hanson, distance men; and Max Tatman and Lester Crow, relay men.

The first meet of the season proved to be the biggest track and field event in Spokane's history with seven high schools participating. North Central won the meet by scoring 76 points to the nearest competitor's 50. Wallace was second while West Valley, Wilbur and Coeur d'Alene were tied for third with 34 points each. Central Valley and St. John were tied in the cellar position with 17 tallies.

ROGERS MEET

The Rogers Pirates garnered 68 1/3 points to North Central's 53 2/3 to win the first city meet of the season. Felber of Rogers scored 19 1/4 points and broke the city discus record to win the honors for the day.

Third row: Marion Westerman, Bill Lee, Sid Piper, Bill Nicoles, Mac McFarland, George Witter, Walter Goddard, Coach Buckley, Stanley Zapell.

Baseball

Coach Archie Buckley called the first baseball meeting March 12 and 95 aspiring big leaguers turned out, among which were only four lettermen. Max Tatman, George Witter, Joe Stan and Dave Jamme were the returning first string men. After a couple of weeks of practice the squad was finally cut to thirty.

Whitworth took a severe drubbing at the hands of the Indians when the North Central team succeeded in circling the bases nine times and holding the Whitworth boys to a shutout.

NORTH CENTRAL DEFEATS ROGERS

North Central started the city series by winning the first game 2-1 over Rogers on the North Central playfield. An error by the Pirates put Contos on base and Max Tatman drove one into center field allowing Contos to score. Holsclaw, North Central's hard-hitting first baseman, knocked a home run deep into center field to complete the Indians' scoring for the day. Rogers' only tally came in the seventh on a walk and two errors.

GONZAGA WINS

Gonzaga broke loose in the first inning to score three times and lead the Indians throughout the game. North Central's only score came in the sixth inning when Stan got a single, stole to third and came home on a catcher's error. After the first inning the Indians settled down to a real game of fielding to hold the Bullpups scoreless.

LEWIS AND CLARK TAKES LEAD

Lewis and Clark defeated North Central in the first game of the series between the two schools. It was necessary to play two extra innings to break the tie. The final score was Lewis and Clark 6, North Central 5. Holsclaw knocked a home run in the first half of the third and Uprichard of Lewis and Clark scored a homer in the last half. Jamme, pitching for the Indians struck out 16 and Miller for the Tigers fanned 11.

NORTH CENTRAL WINS SECOND ROGERS GAME

North Central played an errorless game to defeat the Rogers nine 3-1 on the Rogers playfield in the second game of the season between the two teams. Dave Jamme pitched 12 strikeouts and walked one man during the seven inning game. Jack Holsclaw accounted for his usual home run to bring in Koyama. Carey got a hit in the second inning to bring in Witter for the final score. Cook of Rogers scored on a home run over the fence.

Tennis

With the addition of the new hard surface courts, the tennis team was able to begin practice the early part of March. Coach Hix was well pleased with the turnout as a more than average group attended the first practice.

Whitworth took the edge over the Indian racket wielders in the first meet of the season by winning four matches, dropping three and tying one. In the return meet the college boys widened the margin, taking six of the seven matches.

COEUR D'ALENE WINS

The Coeur d'Alene Vikings counted eight matches while North Central won only five in the first meet between the two teams.

Corvi, N. C., defeated Luncford, Coeur d'Alene, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1; Curran, N. C., defeated Sharf, 7-5, 6-4; Snow, N. C., beat Franzen, 6-4, 6-4; Little, N. C., won over Sanderson, 5-7, 10-8, 6-1; Quilliam, N. C., defeated Wilson, 6-4, 6-3; Potts, Coeur d'Alene, defeated Grobe, 6-2, 7-5; Butler, N. C., lost to Baker, 6-3, 6-8, 6-4; Williams, N. C., lost to Freeman, 6-3, 7-5; McFarlane, Coeur d'Alene, defeated

Hampton, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3; Hall, Coeur d'Alene, beat Jones, 6-4, 6-4; Luncford, Coeur d'Alene, and Van Hersett, N. C., drew. North Central lost all of the doubles. Potts and Glendeman won from Grobe and Maniatis, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4; Jones and Butler lost to Hall and Freeman, 6-1, 6-3; Corvi and Williams lost to Baker and McFarlane, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1.

NORTH CENTRAL WINS AND TIES

The Spokane Valley Junior college took a drubbing at the hands of the Indians. North Central won seven of the nine matches.

North Central and West Valley deadlocked with seven wins apiece on the West Valley courts. In the return meet with West Valley, the Indians and Eagles were unable to break the tie of the previous battle and each team took eight matches.

NORTH CENTRAL DEFEATS ROGERS

Winning five of the seven matches, the Indian tennis team defeated the Roger's netsters on the Pirate's courts May 3. This was the first city series meet.

HOCKEY

Three city high schools, Rogers, Gonzaga and North Central participated in the round-robin tournament in which Rogers emerged as the victor. North Central's final record showed a win, two losses and a tie.

Rogers nosed out the Indians in the first game of the season when the Pirate team rang up three tallies while North Central succeeded in sending the puck past the Rogers' goalie only once.

Thomas and Tearney of North Central each scored once to defeat Gonzaga 2 to 1 in a fast rough tilt marked by many body checks. Almost the whole Indian squad was used in the game.

An overtime period failed to untangle the 3-3 tie between Rogers and North Central in their second tilt of the tournament. It was the fastest game of the season.

Gonzaga trimmed the Indians 2 to 1 when a Bullpup skater pushed the puck past the North Central goalie to break the tie in the last few minutes of the game.

All the game were played on the new artificial ice rink. This new arena made it possible to draw up a schedule for the entire season without fear of having no ice.

G. O. Barnes coached the team this season.

The players were: Eldon Simonson, Harold Goudge, Hardin Holter, Jack Crawford, Vic Thomas, Morris Herwig, Matt Tearney, Kenneth Malmoe, Bob Little, Walt Young, George Van Hersett, George Witter, Bob Eddy and Fred Olsen.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

In a close hard-fought interclass basketball race the junior A's emerged victorious after trouncing the sophomore B's 23 to 18 in the deciding game. Bob Dickson captained the winning team. The other regulars were: Stewart, Zappell, Faraca and Haberman. The senior A's and sophomore B's tied for second place honors.

RIFLE

North Central was unable to maintain its lead for the championship after they had defeated Lewis and Clark for the first time since the inauguration of the Indian-Tiger rifle contests. The Indian sharpshooters won the first match with 478 points against Lewis and Clark's 465. The Tigers took the next two meets by scores of 452 to 448 and 809 to 761. Schenk proved to be North Central's mainstay and was high point man in two of the three contests. Other North Central riflemen were: Griffith, Lutz, Hoesley, Luenow, Alverson and Witter.

FOOTBALL

Results of the fall sports:

North Central became the undisputed city champions for 1933 when they defeated Lewis and Clark in the final game of the season, 6-0.

This was one of the closest city races in history, there being five ties in twelve games.

CROSS COUNTRY

Lewis and Clark defeated North Central in the annual cross country run, 18 to 37. Time for the race was 7:13.8. Paschal Sorey of the Tigers was the first with Fred Scherrer of Lewis and Clark second. The following are in the order in which they finished: Jack Gregory, L. C.; Ralph Anderson, N. C.; Roscoe Laing, L. C.; Francis Hanson, N. C.; Bill Falk, L. C.; George Toulouse, N. C.; Warren Pettis, N. C.; Phil Frazier, N. C.

HANDBALL

North Central won both the singles and the doubles in the handball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. this spring. Lincoln Engdahl, holder of the city title for outdoor courts, won over Eugene Gray of Lewis and Clark, 21-16 and 21-8 in the finals for the city singles championship. Engdahl then paired with Joe Proffit in the doubles and defeated Sullivan and Blackbird of Gonzaga for the doubles crown.

Girls' Athletics

TENNIS

Taking advantage of the early spring weather, eighty girls were out playing tennis by the last of February. Zola Thompson was the captain of the team; Duckee Nord, manager and Viola Miller, chairman. As there was such a large turnout, a schedule was arranged so that the singles and doubles players could play at different times. Early in the season, a tournament was held to determine the ranking of the girls. The team met West Valley May 5. Half the matches were played at North Central and half were played at West Valley. There were tournaments with Lewis and Clark, Rogers and Whitworth.

The senior A girls on the team were: Zola Thompson, Viola Miller, Audrey Gross, Lesley Frazier, Alice Glassford, Agnes Tronsen, Maude McCannon, Marjorie Mallette, Eunice Klatt, Flora Faracu, Helen Stack, Lois Williams and Lucile Lee.

RECREATION HOUR

The Recreation hour closed another successful season in March. The season this year was shorter than usual on account of the nice weather. Marjorie Mallette and Ingolf Krieken were the student directors. They were assisted by Elnora Avey, Ralph Guthrie and Manuel Meineke. Miss Mitchell was the faculty director, but Miss Ellis also helped a great deal. Ping pong was again the favorite sport. Many of the students developed into mighty fine players, and even some of the faculty members proved themselves quite apt at handling the small bats.

HIKING

Starting early in the season, hiking has been another main attraction this semester. Approximately fifty girls, led by Betty Todd, went on hikes to Cliff park, Downriver, Brown's park and other beauty spots of the city. They also enjoyed moonlight suppers, overnight and breakfast hikes. The girls learned to wear flat, heavy shoes—the secret of good hiking. Miss Mitchell chaperoned most of the hikes, but occasionally Miss Brawley, Mrs. Perry R. Sloop and Miss Rawlings have accompanied the girls.

BASEBALL

It is evident that boys are not the only ones interested in baseball for approximately one hundred girls turned out for that sport. A schedule of twenty games was played. Marjorie Lee was the chairman, Lucinda Turner, the manager, and Frances Oatman took charge of the towel cupboard during the season. The teams and their captains were: 9B's, Blue Angels, Edith Shjandemaar, captain; 9A's, Soccers, Mary DeVoe, captain; 10B's, Catcher Ethyl Unsurpassed, Lois McCannon, captain; 10A's, Home Runners, Norma Waller, captain; 11B's, Gangsters, Dorothy Lee, captain; 11A's, Pow Wows, Vivian Schaffer, captain, seniors, The Right Team, Pauline Wright, captain.

P. E. AWARDS

More and more girls have become interested in the P. E. awards. This semester over five hundred girls worked for them. Points are given for participation in any sport, medical certificates, dental O. K.'s, clean rompers, walking slips and League work. Upon earning four hundred points, a girl is given a North Central shield. For each additional four hundred points she earns a bar. The following Senior A girls have received awards: Elnora Avey, Lesley Frazier, Marjorie Mallette, Audrey Gross, Helen Stack, Ethel Walker, Alice Glassford, Lucile Lee, Myrtle Kull, Viola Miller, Zola Thompson, Maude McCannon, Dorothea Frese, Louise Mitchell and Jean MacCulloch.

VOLLEYBALL

Having a turnout of 104 girls, volleyball was one of the most popular sports this year. Alyce Baer was the manager and Elizabeth Stuart the chairman. In the tournament the teams were so evenly matched that extra games had to be played to determine the winner. Finally, the 10A team, the Blue Eagles, captained by Dorothy Serley, came out on top. The other teams in the order in which they placed were: 11i-Vi's, 11B, Lucinda Turner, captain; Defeaters, 10B, Luella Phillipson, captain; T. N. T., seniors, Muriel Price, captain;

TRACK

May 17 was the date of the annual track meet. As track was part of the regular gym work this spring, there were a large number of entries. Violet Jacobs was the manager and Barbara Mastro, the chairman. Each girl was permitted to enter only three events besides the relay.

The events were as follows: 50 and 75-yard dashes; 220;  $\frac{1}{4}$  mile; relay; shotput; baseball, basketball and javelin throws; and broad and high jumps. Some of the track men under the direction of Mr. Taylor helped run off the meet.

SKATING

The Spokane Ice Arena was surely a boon to North Central skaters. If it hadn't been built, there probably would have been a good many grumpy people around school; but since it was built, the skaters made ten enjoyable trips to the arena. A special rate of ten cents an afternoon was given the students, and each time tree tickets were given away by drawing. Gertrude Williamson and Bob Kimball, senior A's, were in charge of the trips.

FIRST AID

Fifty girls took advantage of the first aid classes offered by Mrs. E. E. McIlvaine and Miss Gertrude Jacobson. Lois McCannon was the chairman of the group. To complete the course, the girls were required to take fifteen hours of work. The First Aid Manual was used as a textbook. Upon finishing the course, the girls were presented with Red Cross certificates and also received fifty points towards their activity letters.

TAPPING AND TUMBLING

While at North Central, Miss Brawley, the cadet from Washington State college, conducted tapping and tumbling lessons after school. In tumbling the girls were taught dives, handstands, and the construction of pyramids. The tapping classes learned the fundamental steps and several short dances.

SAHS OF YESTERDAY

In almost any town along the North Atlantic coast you can see old men—reminders of the day when every ship was under canvas and in every port every manner of seamen were to be found. Those glorious days have passed, never to return. Even the old tars, gnarled and weatherbeaten, with their blue eyes watery from long hours of watching the far horizon are disappearing. In a few years you'll have to look far and long before you will find a man who sailed before the mast on an old windjammer. Not many years ago in any port were stately rows of clipper ships, old square-riggers, and dirty coastwise harkentines and schooners, all waiting their turn at the wharf to be loaded.

The clipper ships, most picturesque of all craft, made their way to every corner of the globe. They were famous for their swift passage around the "Horn" and the "Cape." Their forefeet trod the waters of the five oceans, and their masts bowed under the winds of the four corners of the earth. When they came sailing back into their home ports, they brought with them the salt and barnacles of the five oceans on their keel and the grime of six continents in their rigging. They were the venturesome, carefree lads of the shipping. When you boarded a clipper, you had a feeling of wanting to do something big; your ambitions soared, urged by the clean sweep of the decks, the towering masts and the trim rigging set off by an azure sky. You felt young, your heart felt light, and eager blood raced through your veins. A clipper ship had the effect of elevating your emotions to that level where you felt able to conquer all things. There was nothing quite so inspiring as the moment you stepped on the deck of that queen of the seas, the clipper ship.

The old square-riggers, though not so fast, were just as picturesque. They were to be seen beating their way down the Atlantic coast and back up the Pacific. They often plowed across the Atlantic to England, France or Spain; or through the broad Pacific to Australia, China or even India. They were the staid old gentlemen of the shipping trade, steady and dependable, never in a hurry, but always getting there. They had a way about them that made you feel comfortable. When you stepped aboard one of them, you felt as if you had lived all your life and were intimately acquainted with every spar, rope and sail. They had that homey air which is like going into a house and smelling fresh bread, and hearing noisy children.

The coastwise traders were like frowzy old men, quietly going their way about their own business. They soberly traumped up and down the coast like old beggars, taking what they could get and being contented with it. They were the old men of the shipping, given an easy berth to keep them in their old age.

I dread to see the old order of sailing ships disappear, for with their passing much of the glamour of the sea will be lost forever, as even now many of its cherished traditions have been forgotten. Oh, for the days when men of iron in ships of wood pitted their strength against the moods of the sea!

He closed the door behind him and then entered with his hat in his hand saying, "Please, sir, may I attend the ball game?"

"Shure," said Billy, "Go ahead. Here's fifty cents to pay for the ticket."

Teacher: What does this mean? Someone just called up and said that you were sick and could not come to school today.

Bernard Sparrow: Ha, ha, that's a joke on him. He wasn't supposed to call up until tomorrow.

Joyee Hazen: I'm going out to buy a book.

Mom Hazen: A book!

Joy: Yes, Leo bought me the most adorable reading lamp yesterday.

Alice for the first time saw a cat carrying her kitten by the nape of the neck. "You ain't fit to be a mother," she said, "Why you ain't hardly fit to be a father."

Phyliss Spencer: I wondered where all of the Smiths came from until I came to this city.

Eleanor Shatz: And then what happened?

Phyliss: I saw a sign, "Smith Manufacturing Company."

"Why are you crying, little girl?"

"Cause my brother has holidays and I haven't."

"Why haven't you?"

"Cause I don't go to school yet."

Frank Frost: Why don't you ever come to my church?

Ralph Davidson: Because I belong to another abomination.

"Th' noive of that guy," exclaimed Rex Rogers, the office boy, "offerin' me six dollars a week! Wot does he tink I am—a college graduate?"

Teacher: Ed, why are you laughing?

Ed Gonder: Laugh and the whole world laughs with you.

Teacher: But you stay after school alone.

Mrs. Conrad: Now that Courtney is through high school, are you going to take him into business with you?

Papa Conrad: Ob, I dunno. Couldn't you use him for a bridge prize?

Inspector: Got away, did he? Did you guard all the exits?

Constable: Yes, but we think he must have left by the entrance.

"Life!" said the judge.

A short word but a long sentence.

Alice Glassford: I'll have you know that I have blue blood in my veins.

Bill Gee: I hope you're taking something for it.

"You say your sister makes up jokes; then she's a humorist?"

"No, she works in a beauty parlor."

The boy stood on the burning deck

Whence all but him had fled;

He would not move to save his neck,

"For I'm insured he said."

But there's one thing that baffles me,

Even for a lifetime I strive,

I'd like to know just whether or not

I'm one of the four out of five.

"Mrs. Clancey, yer child is badly spoiled."

"Gwan wid yez!"

"Well, if you don't believe me, come and see what the steam roller just did to 'im."

Mrs. Carey (prondly): This is my son, Bob, Mrs. Higgins. Isn't he a bright little fellow?

Bob (accustomed to being shown off): What was that clever thing I said yesterday, Mother?

Viear (concluding story): And, now, children, would you like to ask any questions?

Maurice Botham: Yes, sir. Please, how did you get in'o your collar?

Jimmy Kearnes: I would like a book please.

Miss Bacon: Something light?

Jimmy: It doesn't matter. I have my car with me.

Leonard Sullivan: Not only has Lola broken my heart and wrecked my whole life, but she has spoiled my entire evening.

Lest We Forget—

Pearl Van Dissel: I just couldn't take it, ba-aby.

Jerry Sage: C'm on now, we've gotta' get in five more galleys.

Kay Treffry: An' nen he heaved a big sigh an' wept.

Ralph Davidson: Aw nuts! Skip it.

Jeanne Kingsland: Okay, baby. I relents that.

Marjorie Maschek: I'll think some other time.

Bernard Sparrow: C'm back here and sit with me, will you?

Joyce Hazen: Gee, I had the gr-andest thing to tell you, but I forgot it.

Mary Armstrong: Oh, I've got another fish to fry.

Jim Osebold: I haven't the slightest idea.

Joe McCrackin: Hello, sweetheart, how are you, darling?

Grace Hendricks: Goobs and odles of love.

Leonard Sullivan: Oh, Lola!

Audrey Gross: I say cute things all the time.

Herbie Kaesemeyer: What did you say your name was?

Helen Zwycyberg: An' 'nen I woke up.

Frank Frost: Zee Generale Paprika!

Ralph Davidson: I passed by your house yesterday.

Pearl Van Dissel: Thanks awfully.

Judge (in dentist's chair): Do you swear to pull the tooth, the whole tooth, and nothing but the tooth?

"So you done mortgaged our lil' home."

"Jes' temporarily, honey, till de mortgage am foreclosed."

Doctor: But my dear boy, why must I tape your fingers?

Very siek lad: So they won't hurt when I play the harp.

Theon: Do you think your father will object to my suit?

Andrey: I don't see why he should, he wears one almost as bad.

"Yes, she's married to a real estate agent and a good honest fellow, too."

"My gracious! Bigamy?"
